Indianapolis — There are more signs Super Bowl 2012 in Indianapolis is fast approaching. A neglected east side neighborhood is now getting a makeover.

The Super Bowl Host Committee teamed up with the Realtor Foundation for a legacy project targeting the St. Clair Place area. 32 homes are being repaired, renovated or built from the ground up.

Once complete, the homes will go to deserving families.

Friend us on Facebook and get the latest news, information and announcements.

In all, the legacy project plans to fix up to 200 homes on the near east side by 2012.
